Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, the department of health and social services (DHSS) is required to promulgate rules establishing standards for the operation of day care centers. Currently, DHSS rules permit a child to attend a day care center for not more than 12 hours during any 24-hour period. This bill requires DHSS to promulgate rules permitting a child to attend a group day care center or a family day care home for not more than 13 hours during any 24-hour period and for not more than 55 hours during any 7-day period.
